History:

This ghost has been a nuisance for years. Merchants speak of the "hunger ghost" that haunts the shops and restaurants in this area. They leave out food as offerings to him every year at this time. This seems to appease him but it of course does not get rid of him. Now that there is a GP franchise in the area we have been swamped with calls asking us to remove the unwanted spirit.

Notes:

This ghost appears to have numerous haunt sites in a walkable area. Unlike the training ghost, you should expect to get one message from each location. Go to St. Mary's Park in San Francisco and park in a long term parking lot. You will be able to proceed on foot from there for the entirety of this ghost. Since this is your first ghost, we have many agents stationed throughout the city to make sure you don't miss anything. Don't forget to read your Tobin's!
